Salary Determination

- The ODNI uses a rank-in-person system in which rank is attached to the individual. A selected ODNI candidate or other Federal Government candidate will be assigned to the position at the employee's current GS grade and salary.
- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Oversee and direct staff in the development of complex, expert assessments of the responsiveness of intelligence collection to the nation's highest intelligence priorities. These assessments are provided to National Security Council Staff, as well as senior NCTC and ODNI leaders, to support high level policy decisions.
- Lead staff in the identification of critical collection gaps by working with Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) components and Intelligence Community (IC) partners.
- Direct staff to partner with IC stakeholders in the planning, definition, and development of integrated, all-source collection strategies to address critical gaps against the most difficult targets; foster collaboration between analysts and collectors; and monitor and evaluate collector results.
- Lead staff in the development of integrated collection responses to national plans and strategies, emerging analytic community information needs, special events, and crises; establish, prioritize, and communicate objectives, specific actions to be taken, and explicit timelines to achieve mission objectives.
- Lead and oversee staff in the planning, preparation, and presentation of briefings, reports, and presentations to ODNI and organizational leadership, senior policymakers, IC members, and other intelligence consumers in a manner that meets their specified requirements; provide structured recommendations to address emerging issues, congressionally directed activities, and legislated requirements.

- Develop and present expert findings and recommendations to support strategy efforts, enhance collection efforts, and inform budget decisions.
- Lead a team of professional staff in the capture and translation of customer information needs into strategic priorities and tasking for collectors through the National Intelligence Priorities Framework (NIPF) and collection discipline standing requirements.
- Serve as an expert ODNI or NCTC representative on specific collection projects and interface with key stakeholders across the IC and the United States Government (USG) to assess collection capabilities.
- Lead a team of professional staff and assess performance, collaborate and oversee goal setting, and provide feedback on personal development.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Expert knowledge of the intelligence collection discipline and of collection organizations' capabilities and challenges.
- Expert ability to lead collection organizations in synchronizing and coordinating the implementation of plans and programs.
- Expert level experience in developing and implementing all-source collection strategies, which includes knowledge of evaluative analysis and the ability to plan, conduct, and produce complex assessments and analyses of the effectiveness of collection programs.
- Knowledge of processes and systems for submitting information needs and collection requirements.

Desired Requirements

- Advanced communication (oral and written) skills.
- Expert knowledge of the intelligence collection discipline and of collection organizations' capabilities and challenges.
